

Q&A

Q. We have a limited budget, how can we bring you to our event?

A. We have many creative options for those with a limited budget. For example you can join with other schools or organizations and split the investment, or try booking me when I'm already in your area. In addition, many schools/organizations have covered the fee with grant money. Give us a call and we can help to customize your program to fit within your budget.

Q. What kind of travel expenses are we talking about?

A. We have included the price of all travel expenses in the program investment. You only have one price to pay when you book me. It's easier for everyone.

Q. What type of events do you normally speak at?

A. I speak at a range of different events: corporations, colleges/universities, middle/high school assemblies, all male programs, juvenile detention centers, student leadership conferences, educator conferences and religious programs and conferences.

Q. Will you do media interviews while you are here?

A. Many times we will work in enough time for TV or radio interviews while Alton is in your area, and sometimes we'll even set up on-location newspaper or magazine interviews.

Q. Will you do speaking tours or speak on multiple days?

A. Yes, I prefer to speak at as many venues as possible when I am in the area. I will also participate in speaking tours and speak on multiple days. Just indicate this when submitting a booking request so we can plan accordingly.

Q. Can we purchase your products in advance?

A. Yes, you can preorder products in advance for all the attendees at your event and we will have them shipped to you before the event.

Q. How do we get started?

A. Visit the Contact page to fill out a booking request. We look forward to hearing from you!
